

Sultanpur National Park

Date of Designation

May 25, 2021

Location

Gurugram district, Haryana

Area

412.5 ha.

Site No.

2457

Designation Criteria

2,4,5 and 6.

Wetland Type

Freshwater lakes & pools,
Seasonal/ intermittent freshwater lakes

Management Authority

Forest and Wildlife Department,
Government of Haryana

Protection Status

National Park

Other Designation

Important Bird Area

Values and Benefits

Ground Water Recharge and Discharge

Local Climate Regulation/ Buffering of Change

Supports Biodiversity

Educational Activities and Opportunities

Storage, Recycling, processing and acquisition of Nutrients

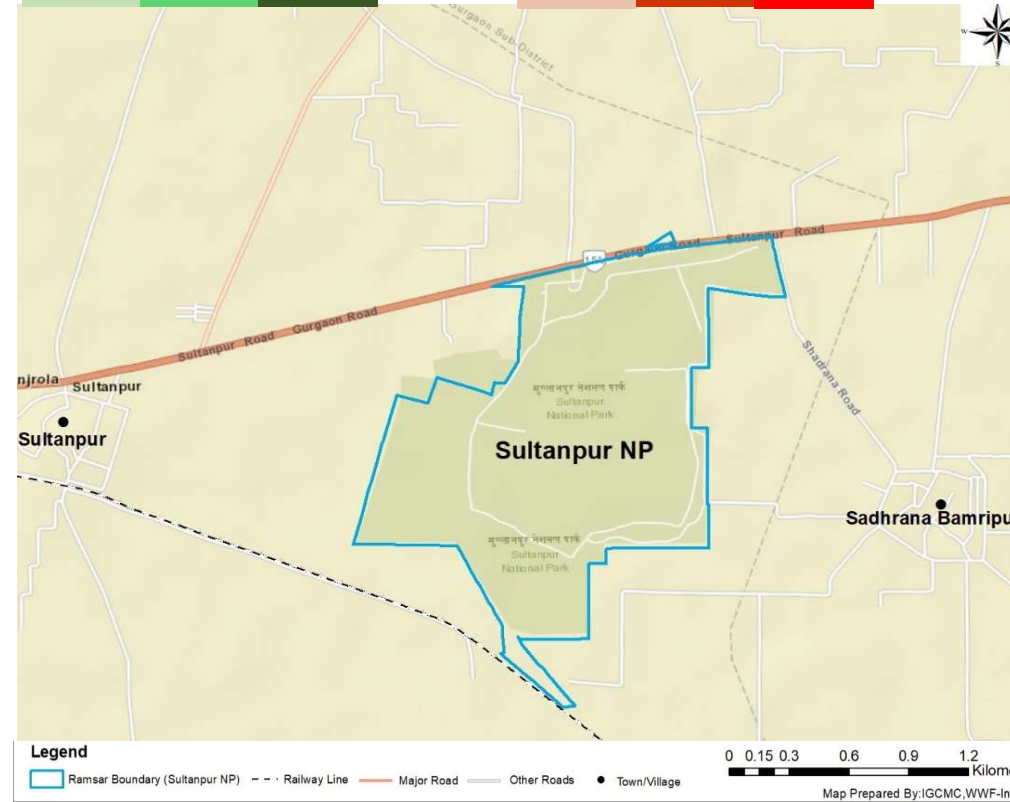

Nature based Tourism and Observation

Significance

Significance

Threats

Increase in Housing and Urban Areas

Agricultural and Forestry Effluents

Mining and Quarrying

Invasive Weeds and Water Hyacinth

Species Richness

More than 220 species of birds, 150 species of plants, several insects and mammals, 7.1% of biogeographic population of Bar-headed Goose and 8.95% of the biogeographic population of Greylag Goose

Notable

Bar-headed Goose, Greylag Goose, Lesser White-fronted Goose,

Critically Endangered

Sociable Lapwing

Endangered

Saker Falcon, Pallas's Fish Eagle, Egyptian Vulture, Black-bellied Tern,

Vulnerable

Lesser White-fronted Goose, Eastern Imperial Eagle, Woolly-necked Stork, Sarus Crane, Common Pochard